Interact-TV's ProTelly Media Server selected as a CEA 2007 Mark of Excellence Awards finalist

Westminster, CO., February 27, 2007 – Interact-TV™ (OTC: ITVI), a leading developer of Linux-based media servers, today announced that its ProTelly Media Server has been selected as a CEA 2007 Mark of Excellence Awards finalist in the Best Media Servers category.

The Mark of Excellence Awards program, presented by CEA's TechHome Division, recognizes the best in custom home electronic products, services, and installed technology. Each year, manufacturers, distributors, and systems integrators enter to compete in award categories for this coveted award that is judged by independent experts within the industry. The Mark of Excellence Awards recognizes products and companies in the forefront of innovation in the home technologies industry.

ProTelly Media Servers deliver all the features and functionality consumers have come to expect from a media server including a subscription-free PVR, Video Library with an integrated DVD Library as well as Music and Photo Libraries. ProTelly incorporates many new features that are critical to the CEDIA market including component video out with 720p and 1080i, more zones per server with Gigabit Ethernet and a higher performance processor, cover art menu navigation, and all new MPEG2 video encoding.

"We are pleased to be recognized by the CEA as one of the top innovators in the digital media server market," said Ken Fuhrman, CTO of Interact-TV. "We continue to offer a complete media server at a reasonable price point that consumers can afford."
