Interact-TV Unveils TellyVizion – Multi-Room Access to Digital Media Libraries Throughout the Networked Home

Westminster, CO, September 7, 2005 – Interact-TV™ (OTC:ITVI), a leading developer of Linux-based home entertainment servers, is unveiling the TellyVizion™ playback unit that seamlessly accesses and plays digital media from any Telly Home Entertainment Server®. TellyVizion will be shown at the September 2005 CEDIA Expo, Booth 4114. TellyVizion is scheduled to start shipping September 2005.

Home entertainment servers are becoming increasingly popular for storage and playback of movies, music and photographic content and making it available over a Home Network. TellyVizion is a playback unit that easily integrates with products in the Telly Home Entertainment Server and allows consumers to easily access entire digital media libraries from any room in the home. A Telly Home Entertainment Server can support multiple TellyVizion units connected throughout the Home Network over built-in Ethernet or 802.11g wireless.

The advantage that TellyVizion has over other media adapters is that it can access and playback all digital media stored on a Telly Home Entertainment Server including saved DVDs, music, photos and recorded programs. Most other media adapters have limited video formats and none can playback saved DVDs over the home network. Also, with the Personal CD/DVD option, TellyVizion can be used to play or store DVDs or Music CDs directly onto the Telly Server. TellyVizion's PVR option allows a TellyVizion to record television programming, providing the consumer multiple recording channels.

“The TellyVizion is the next step in our plans to allow consumers to easily store, manage, access and enjoy digital media throughout the home. Creating easy to use and well integrated solutions that our customers enjoy is the cornerstone of our company” said Ken Fuhrman, CEO of Interact-TV.
